Welcome Message:

Dear Colleagues,

We welcome you to the World Conference on Neurology and Brain Disorders (WCNBD-2026) in Paris, France, March 12-14, 2026. We are excited about the opportunities of holding an innovative hybrid conference (both Online & In-person) and reaching a wider audience than a conference can possibly include. Participants from around the world are expected to participate actively in this event.

We are confident that this will be a platform to gather and disseminate the latest knowledge in recent advancements in emerging areas of diversified research fields covered during a conference that will provide a platform for the participants to share experiences and knowledge through several sessions, plenary & keynote presentations, workshops, and performances.

You can expect a stimulating, fruitful, and enjoyable time in Paris, France. We look forward to meeting you in Paris for World Conference on Neurology and Brain Disorders (WCNBD-2026).

About Paris, France:

Paris, the capital of France, is a global centre of art, fashion, gastronomy, and culture. Known as the “City of Light,” Paris offers an unforgettable experience with its historic landmarks such as the Eiffel Tower, Notre-Dame Cathedral, and the Louvre Museum. Its charming cafés, world-class restaurants, and scenic riverbanks along the Seine create a vibrant and romantic atmosphere. Paris is also a major hub for education and research, making it an ideal destination for an international scientific gathering. With its excellent public transportation system, including the Metro and RER trains, exploring the city’s many iconic attractions is convenient and enjoyable.

Getting to Paris by Air:

Paris is served by three major airports: Charles de Gaulle Airport (CDG), Orly Airport (ORY), and Beauvais-Tillé Airport (BVA). Charles de Gaulle Airport, located about 25 km northeast of the city center, is the main international gateway, offering direct flights from cities across Europe, Asia, the Americas, and beyond. Efficient train, bus, and taxi services connect the airports to central Paris, ensuring easy access for all travelers
