Welcome Message:

Dear Participants,

On behalf of the organizing committee, it is our great honour to welcome you to the World Conference on Infectious Diseases and Preventive Medicine, taking place from March 12–14, 2026, in the dynamic city of Paris, France, and through our hybrid platform accessible worldwide.

This global gathering serves as a premier forum for public health professionals, researchers, educators, and policy leaders to share cutting-edge knowledge, innovative practices, and collaborative strategies in advancing global health and preventive medicine.

Our hybrid format enables us to bring together voices from every corner of the world offering both in-person engagement and virtual participation to ensure accessibility, inclusivity, and a truly international exchange of ideas.

Throughout the three-day summit, you will experience insightful keynote sessions, interactive panel discussions, and networking opportunities aimed at addressing current public health challenges and shaping evidence-based solutions for a healthier future.

We are thrilled to host this significant event in Paris, a city known for its rich culture, innovation, and hospitality. Whether you are joining us on-site or online, we warmly welcome your contributions and look forward to meaningful collaboration.

Together, let us work toward building resilient health systems and promoting preventive care on a global scale.

About Paris, France:

Paris, located in the Île-de-France region, is the capital of France and one of the world's most iconic cities, renowned for its timeless charm, artistic heritage, and cosmopolitan flair. From the historic grandeur of Notre-Dame Cathedral and the Eiffel Tower to the elegant boulevards of the Champs-Élysées and the bohemian atmosphere of Montmartre, Paris offers an unparalleled blend of history, culture, and modern life. The city is a global hub for fashion, cuisine, and art, with everything from Michelin-starred restaurants to cozy cafés and patisseries lining its picturesque streets. Paris boasts an extensive and efficient public transportation system—including the Paris Métro, RER trains, and trams—ensuring easy access to its diverse neighborhoods and landmarks.

Getting to Paris by Air:

Paris is served by two major international airports: Charles de Gaulle Airport (CDG) and Orly Airport (ORY).

Charles de Gaulle, located about 25 km northeast of the city, is France's largest international gateway, connecting to destinations across Europe, Asia, Africa, and the Americas. Orly, situated roughly 15 km south of central Paris, primarily handles domestic and European flights. Both airports are well-connected to the city via express trains, buses, and taxis, making travel into Paris smooth and convenient.
