Welcome Message

Dear Participants,

On behalf of the organizing committee, it is our great honour to welcome you to the World Conference on Infectious Diseases, taking place from November 19-21, 2026, in the dynamic city of Tokyo, Japan, and through our hybrid platform accessible worldwide.

This global gathering serves as a premier forum for public health professionals, researchers, educators, and policy leaders to share cutting-edge knowledge, innovative practices, and collaborative strategies in advancing global health and preventive medicine.

Our hybrid format enables us to bring together voices from every corner of the world offering both in-person engagement and virtual participation to ensure accessibility, inclusivity, and a truly international exchange of ideas.

Throughout the three-day summit, you will experience insightful keynote sessions, interactive panel discussions, and networking opportunities aimed at addressing current public health challenges and shaping evidence-based solutions for a healthier future.

We are thrilled to host this significant event in Tokyo, a city known for its rich culture, innovation, and hospitality. Whether you are joining us on-site or online, we warmly welcome your contributions and look forward to meaningful collaboration.

Together, let us work toward building resilient health systems and promoting preventive care on a global scale.

About Tokyo, Japan:

Tokyo, located in Japan's Kanto region, is the nation's capital and a global city known for its seamless blend of tradition and innovation. From the historic charm of Asakusa and the majestic Meiji Shrine to the neon-lit districts of Shinjuku and Shibuya, Tokyo offers an unmatched cultural and urban experience. The city is a world leader in fashion, technology, and cuisine, with everything from Michelin-starred sushi to cozy ramen shops lining its bustling streets.

Tokyo's extensive and efficient public transportation network—including the Tokyo Metro, Toei Subway, and JR Yamanote Line—ensures smooth access to its countless districts and attractions.

Getting to Tokyo by Air:

Tokyo is served by two major international airports: Narita International Airport (NRT) and Haneda Airport (HND).

Haneda, located closer to the city center (about 20 km), handles both domestic and international flights and is known for its convenience and speed. Narita, approximately 60 km from central Tokyo, connects with cities across Asia, Europe, and the Americas. Both airports are well-linked to Tokyo via express trains like the Narita Express and Tokyo Monorail, making travel to the heart of the city fast and efficient.
