MALPRACTICE 2026

A new international platform on medical malpractice

MALPRACTICE 2026 is a new international scientific meeting organized under the scientific framework of BAFS, dedicated to the intersection of clinical practice, legal responsibility, forensic evaluation, and patient safety, with the 2026 edition specifically focused on Obstetrics & Gynecology. It is designed as a multidisciplinary platform bringing together experts from medicine, forensic sciences, law, academia, insurance companies, health management, and related fields.

Why this conference matters

- The first international conference series by BAFS dedicated specifically to medical malpractice.
- 2026 thematic focus: Obstetrics & Gynecology
- Bridges medicine, forensic science, law, ethics, and patient safety
- Created for a mixed international audience of clinicians, forensic experts, legal professionals, academics, insurers, health managers, and researchers.
- Hybrid format allowing both on-site and online participation
- Hosted in Istanbul, Türkiye, on 08–11 October 2026
