ABOUT CONFERENCE

On the success of our previous edition "4th edition of Unite Scientific Aging Conference (USAC-2026)" at Brussels, Belgium.

Unite explores is gearing upto our "5th edition of Unite Scientific Aging Conference (USAC-2027)" which is going to be held during April 26-27, 2027 at Milan, Italy. We are heartily open the invitation for Participants who are involving and working on Aging.

Scientists, Professors, Doctors, academicians, and industry clients from around the world who belonged to the aging research are participating. The focusing topics are Food and nutrition, Brain function and cognition, Management of chronic diseases, Medications, dietary supplements, Genetics and aging.

Because aging is a worldwide phenomenon, the needs and opportunities of an aging world must also reflect and respect cultural and social diversity in developing programs that encourage quality of life at all ages. How do we address the collective needs of the aging population while respecting each person's individuality.

USAC-2027 provides an ideal forum for discussing and debating the many issues related to aging and gerontology. Submissions from a variety of fields and perspectives are welcomed and encouraged. Original research across disciplines, including science and technology, biology and physiology, sociology, and psychology, will ensure an active and exciting opportunity to expand our gerontological understanding.

Here discussing the Aging research findings that have been meaningful and successfully turned into practice. Our conference offers the attendees, unique opportunity to build a strategy that will drive your hard-work and your mission forward.

Milan, Italy

Discover the Charm of Milan, Italy

Milan, the capital of the Lombardy region in northern Italy, is a vibrant and cosmopolitan city renowned for its unique blend of historical heritage, modern innovation, and global influence. Widely recognized as Italy’s financial and business capital, Milan is home to the country's stock exchange and serves as a major hub for fashion, design, and commerce. Often referred to as one of the world's fashion capitals, the city hosts internationally acclaimed events such as Milan Fashion Week and the Salone del Mobile. Despite its fast-paced urban character, Milan offers a welcoming atmosphere, combining contemporary living with timeless Italian charm.

The city boasts a rich history dating back over two thousand years, having been founded by the Celtic Insubres before becoming an important Roman settlement. At the heart of Milan stands the magnificent Duomo di Milano, one of the largest and most breathtaking Gothic cathedrals in the world. Nearby, visitors can explore the elegant Galleria Vittorio Emanuele II, one of the oldest shopping arcades in Europe, famous for its luxury boutiques, historic cafés, and remarkable architecture. The iconic Sforza Castle, once the residence of Milan’s ruling families, further reflects the city's remarkable historical legacy.

Milan is also celebrated for its exceptional contributions to art, architecture, and culture. The city is home to Leonardo da Vinci's world-famous masterpiece, The Last Supper, housed in the Convent of Santa Maria delle Grazie, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Renowned museums such as the Pinacoteca di Brera and the Museo del Novecento showcase an impressive collection of classical and modern artworks. Milan's skyline presents a striking contrast between historic landmarks and innovative contemporary architecture, particularly in the Porta Nuova district, symbolizing the city's dynamic spirit.

In addition to its cultural and gastronomic attractions, Milan offers numerous green spaces and recreational areas. Parco Sempione, located behind Sforza Castle, provides a peaceful escape in the heart of the city, while the Giardini Pubblici Indro Montanelli offers beautiful gardens and walking paths. Whether exploring historic monuments, attending an international conference, discovering world-class museums, or experiencing Italy's fashion and design capital, Milan delivers a memorable experience that seamlessly combines its rich heritage with a modern, international outlook.
